FOREWORD

A dedication of the 1940 Echo has to be made to that intangible something which exists on this campus as "Spirit". One feels it as he enters the buildings, he feels it as he walks across the campus, as he watches the athletic teams in action or listens to the singing of the old school song.

This thing we call "School Spirit" was not born of itself; it has been planted into every brick, every plot of ground, and into every tree and rock on this campus by the pioneer educators who lived and died in the hope that this school might someday enter into an era of greatness. Today that very thing is happening; it is a new era for this college. The frontiers have been passed and the lives of those men are evidenced by the beginning of a new growth.

This book is published that you, the students, may, years hence, look back and mark 1940 among the really great years of your life. Read this book and cherish it, for the passing of time will surely endear it to your hearts.

BOARD OF REGENTS

The contract for the building of the new John R. Kirk Memorial building was let by the Board of Regents, Wednesday, March 20. This is only one of the numerous duties and functions the Board of Regents performs. Also, because of their efforts, the new industrial arts building is now a reality.

Ideas and policies concerning the school are handled by these men who are to be commended for their part in building a bigger and better Northeast Missouri State Teachers College.

Members not in picture: White, Roodhouse.

The College has a form of student government that is becoming more widespread among American colleges and universities each year.

The Council has charge of the money collected through activity fees, to be used for entertainment. Two all-school dances and two all-school shows each quarter sponsored by the Council for students tea dances introduced for first time, two were held year's entertainment climaxed when Little Jack Little played for an All-School dance also helped finance cooperative programs and concerts and Rotary lectures.

Jacquelyn Winsler and Emil McNeely went to national student government meeting at Minneapolis found we had one of the strongest student councils in the United States.

Standing: Cockrill, Kumm, Woods, Dean Eubank, Sponsor; R. Sees, Corresponding Secretary; Barclay, Sterling, Vice-President; Burdman, Prater.

Blue Key is a national honorary fraternity which devotes its services to the general improvement of the school and lends its assistance in any possible way. It truly is an integral part of the scheme of "the old Bulldog Spirit."

This year the group sponsored the first Real Homecoming we have had in many a day. There were scores of old grads floating around that day to hear famous "Curly" McWilliams, the old Bulldog star, to watch the parade of over fifteen floats, all beautifully decorated, and to see the exciting football game and attend the banquet and dance. Blue Key plans to make this an annual affair. The group also ushers at various school functions, maintains a loan fund, and gives a dance once during the year.

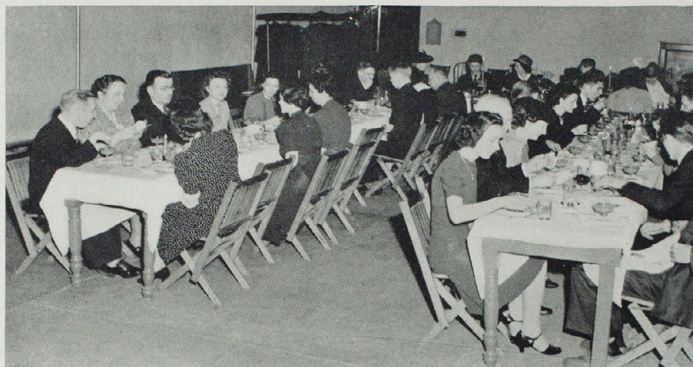

PI OMEGA PI

Statistical: seventeenth year for Alpha chapter . . . nearly fifty in the organization this year. . . The 1939-'40 season in review: year off to a good start with a wiener roast and swimming party at LaPlata Lake. . . mid-season brings Christmas dance to raise funds for the Salvation Army. . . Maxwell Barclay, president, and Miss Ruth Roberts of the faculty go to Pittsburgh for national convention during Christmas vacation. . . Programs feature book reviews and student participation: for instance, Miss Katherine Harvey reviews Browning's "Ring and the Book" . . . Wayne Hodges gives travel talk about his hitchhiking jaunt to New York World's Fair. . . Other students and guest speakers discuss business education subjects.

Seated: Vice, Shores, Bowen, Barb, Young, Mrs. Hunsaker, Dr. Selby, Miss Frank, Miss Roberts, Myers, Historian; Opel, Wright, Mrs. Allen, Bender.

 Nina Clare, president, sent as delegate to National Biennial Congress at St. Louis. . . Luncheon held in honor of alumni at District Teachers Meeting. . . Scholarship awarded in spring quarter.

CARDINAL KEY

Our customary start is an Open House. . . This year we gave a tea as a special greeting to new upperclasswomen. At initiation we stressed scholarship, leadership, character and service.

When Christmas came we proved our ability as seamstresses . . . dressed dolls . . . and also wrapped food and presents for a needy family. The dinner was nice, too.

More gay Open Houses . . . two more initiations. . . Highlight of the year . . . presenting two scholarships for spring quarter fees to two worthy girls.

Constantly find places to serve. . . Ushering for senior day and the cooperative concerts, an annual pleasure.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Sponsored by the Teachers College music department, the Kirksville Symphony Orchestra is composed of the best musicians of the student bodies of the Teachers College, the College of Osteopathy, the High School, and the community in general.

Meetings are held once each week to study the orchestrations of the best composers.

Only one public concert was given this year. It was held in Kirk Auditorium in February. The accompaniment for the opera "Erminie" was provided by members of the Symphony orchestra.

Professor J. L. Biggerstaff, head of the music department of the Teachers College, directs the orchestra.

More than one hundred College Players work together in staging and producing three one-act plays fortnightly, plus three or four major productions yearly.

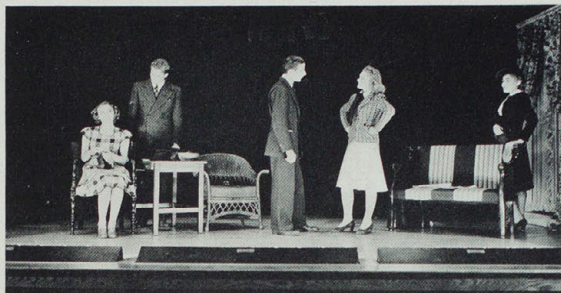

However, all is not work in the organization. College Players have many social functions, including watermelon feeds, wiener roasts, picnics and parties.

Reader's Round Table is organized for those interested in poetry and dialect reading.

They have their regular informal programs and social events.

Mr. E. S. Avison and Mr. S. J. Collins are Co-sponsors of College Players, while Mr. Avison sponsors Reader's Round Table.

FOOTBALL

Scrap! . . . the finest adjective that could be applied to this year's Bulldogs. . . With thirteen letter men available and the rest of the squad composed of freshmen, Coach Mal Eiken, late of Minnesota University, produced a team that showed worlds of scrap and really developed during the season. The last few games served fair warning to their brother M. I. A. A. members not to disregard the Bulldogs next fall.

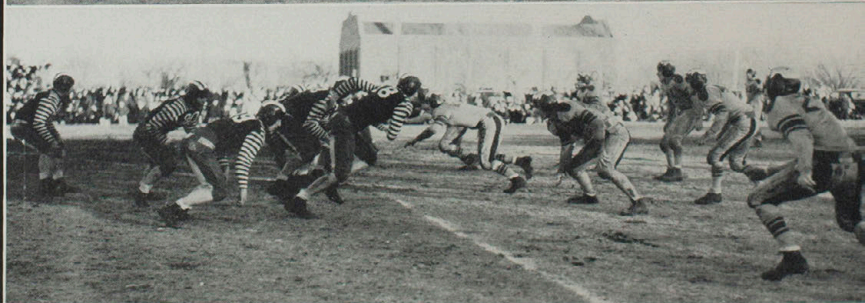

On September 4 the Purple and White team invaded the lair of the Iowa State Teachers Panthers, only to go down in defeat 12-0. Then came a real thriller with Culver-Stockton. . . Frank Noble booted a third quarter field goal to give the Bulldogs a stirring 3-0 victory.

The next week in a rough and tumble affair that had the spectators wild-eyed, Kirksville smashed Chillicothe Business College into submission 14-0.

The big Purple team led Cape Girardeau 3-0 until the final minute when the Red Raiders smashed over the touchdown which gave them the game. The heat took its toll at Springfield and the Bears had a perfect Homecoming, defeating Kirksville 27-0. Warrensburg spoiled our homecoming by a 21-7 victory.

FOOTBALL

Then came the highlight of the season! Mighty Maryville almost toppled before the fighting Bulldogs—a real thriller that ended 19-13 in favor of the Bearcats. Finally, on a muddy field, the Bulldogs fought a bitter battle at Rolla, losing 13-6.

Individual pictures: Wayne Morris, End; Wendell Stultz, Center; Hally Grisamer, Guard; Bert Lane, Quarterback; Lamar Strah, End; Gerald Grossnickle, Fullback; Kenneth Gardner, Tackle; Elbert Wills, End; Clyde Burton, Tackle; Wayland Longwith, Center; Ira Hassler, Guard; Frank Noble, End; Orville Gregory (Captain) Fullback; Albert Closson, End; Byron Roodhouse, Halfback.

BASKETBALL

Not in picture: Brockman.

In his second year as basketball mentor here, Coach Malcolm Eiken produced what local fans call the "fightin'est" Bulldog team in many a day. Long in the doldrums of conference competition, this year's aggregation proved a thorn in the side of every team they met. It just seemed as if Dame Fortune had a special peeve at the Bulldogs. They lost 10 games by three points, or less . . . and eight of them were lost by less than one goal.

This season especially pleased the students and the townspeople because every game was clean and hard fought, almost every moment was a thriller—baskets piled up, the band played and a general revival in basketball interest began.

BASKETBALL

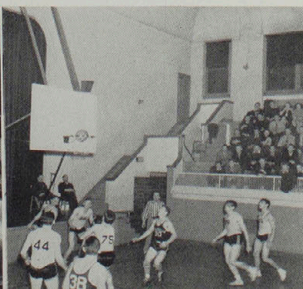

With such players as the high-scoring Shores, Shwarzer, and Bass and the battling Lane and Bohmbach, the Bulldog team was constantly a thrill-provider. The boys were exceptionally "hot" when they drubbed Tarkio, National Intercollegiate Basketball champs, to the tune of 59-38.

Who could ever forget the Maryville game when we led up until the last second, and the way we eked out over the mighty Iowa State Teachers. . . Yes sir, sports fans, we had a real team this year and if an election to find public opinion were held this student body would cast their all for the Bulldogs and their fine coach.

Good Form.

Coming At You.

The Bulldogs took to the cinders last year with only a thin scattering of letter-men and with prospects appearing very dim. They dropped the first dual meet of the season to Culver-Stockton by a close margin . . . in quick succession triumphed over Chillicothe Business College by a decisive score. In a triangular meet with Rolla and Warrensburg, wound up last. At the indoor meet of the M. I. A. A. held in Columbia, Cape was victorious; in order came Springfield, Maryville, Rolla, Warrensburg and Kirksville. The same order prevailed in the outdoor conference meet held a little later on.

"This year, with the addition of several new men to the squad as well as lettermen Lammers and Branstetter, the Bulldogs hope to have things a little more their way," says Coach Markel.

BOYS' INTRAMURALS

Thirteen basketball teams play 114 games. . . At the end of the season Roy Phillips' team and the Farm Hands team were tied. . . Phillips won in the play-off by 3 points. . . 150 participants in intramural sports give example of the interest and enthusiasm shown in the intramural program this year.

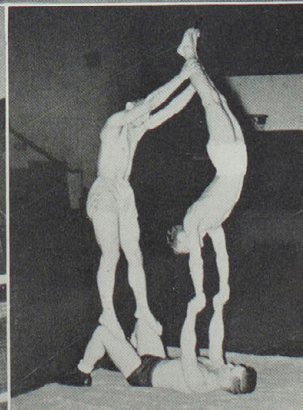

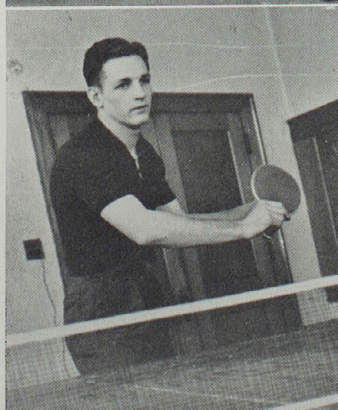

Volleyball tournament fun, too . . . especially with a faculty team participating. . . Brockman has strong team. . . Softball tournament planned for later on. . . Many enthusiasts enjoyed ping pong and horse-shoe. . . Hassler, Crist, and Mains quite adept at tumbling. . . Annual tennis tournament provides fun for many.

Kirksville, State Teachers College
Kirksville, Missouri

Dear Mr. Greene:

Thanks very much for honoring me by asking me to serve as a judge in your beauty contest on your campus. I only hope I don't get into too much trouble over it because I like Missouri and enjoyed my stay in your state very much when we were there making "Jesse James". I hope to be able to come back some time.

When your letter and the pictures came, I was working in "Dance With The Devil" and had just been let out of prison. The shot they took of me with the pictures was made on the set.

My selection in the contest is Miss Hettie Mae Watson.

Sincerely yours,
Tyrone Power
